Excerpt from Substance of a Sermon Against Drunkenness, Preached to the Catholics of Divers Parts of New South Wales

What man loves to be despised Which of you will endure patiently the contempt of another? And yet every drunkard crowns his head with mighty scorn. Putting himself beneath the lowest; degrading himself under the meanest. The boys laugh at him, children hoot him, and the criminal scorn him, as he is led home like the cripple, lisping the imperfect noises of an infant, or babbling with a full and spongy tongue, an empty head, a foolish heart. Woe and alas! God of heaven! Dare I appeal to Thee from amidst such a scene Thy creatures too! Whither has thy image departed from them To see a sensible man dishonour himself like the foolish disgrace his friends like the impious impoverish his family like the unjust; bring degradation on those who are dearest to him like the heartless, bring reproach on religion like the profane; destroy his body like the murderer, and his soul like the infidel; become an appellation of scorn and a scene of derision to all, and of forgetfulness to himself. Where, O God, is thy image in this man! Where, Divine Lord, are the marks of his baptism Where, sacred heavens, are the features of your child! And call you yourself still a Christian? And name you yourself yet a man Where then are the commands of the Gospel? Where the precepts of the Church Where, even the laws of nature, the ties of humanity, and the instincts of self-preservation?
