Excerpt from The Integrity of Christian Science

In the following consideration of a subject in which much that is sure is involved with much that is certainly open to serious question it is very likely that some of the reasonings may be met by those of the special faith discussed, with, "Why that is Christian Science!"

It is precisely in the hope that a reality of Christian Science may appear which shall be sufficient of itself to repudiate any dangerous admixture of error that the study has been attempted.

If there is repetition in the argument it is the inevitable recurrence of the keynote, which rules and insists in every harmony.
