No More Plagiarism provides a structured research model to encourage secondary students to conduct sophisticated research without plagiarizing. Aligned with the CCSS College and Career Readiness Standards, this manual teaches students to understand, explore, and refine research topics while evaluating the validity and reliability of sources. Students will learn to use the Independent Investigative Method (IIM) to become ethical researchers and establish lifelong careers. The student workpages include instructions, examples, and workspace to apply the skills for each of the seven steps of the research process. Also included are assessment forms for each step, giving students the quality criteria to help them achieve at a high level. This manual will empower students to learn actively through research while gaining content knowledge across the curriculum.

This comprehensive teacher's guide includes: notes to the teacher and lesson ideas at each of the seven steps; CCSS College and Career Readiness Standards; self-directed student workpage and student information forms including examples of each skill being applied; rubrics with quality criteria for each step; an appendix with a complete listing of the related CCSS skills often used in research and tested technology sites; and a CD with editable workpage, information, and assessment forms.
